WEDNESDAY EVENING, MARCH 23.

A SCENE AT THE VATICAN.—There has been in Rome, for some weeks past, an Englishwoman of good family named Miss Loughlin. She is not crazy, but her mind is feeble on some points. Unfortunately, she obtained a ticket of admission to the anniversary mass at the Sistine Chapel. She was not in the chapel half an hour before there was some trouble. Ladies are all provided with seats on a comfortable balcony opposite, and similar to, the one provided for the ambassadors, etc. Miss Loughlin concluded she wanted a better seat, and, selecting the most desirable chair, she made her way through the crowd and demanded it of the lady occupying it. She was an English princess, she said, and her ticket called for that particular chair. Naturally, the proper owner of the chair declined to vacate, and it must be confessed, a noisy discussion followed. The discussion, to the horror of all who witnessed it, ended by Miss Loughlin giving the lady a ringing slap in the face. The guards approached her, and finally persuaded her to leave the balcony. The other lady had, of course, promptly fainted. Miss Loughlin next showed a disposition to go up to the papal throne for a seat, but again the Swiss Guards restrained her gently. After a little while she again became noisy, and she was told either to be quiet or to leave the chapel. She did neither, but became hysterical, whereupon two stalwart Swiss laid aside their halberds and, picking her up, carried her out of the chapel. The entire disturbance was over long before the entrance of the Pope.

Consumption.

Notwithstanding the great number who yearly succumb to this terrible and fatal disease which is daily winding its fatal coils around thousands who are unconscious of its deadly presence Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cleanse and purify the blood of scrofulous impurities, and cure tubercular consumption (which is only scrofulous disease of the lungs). Send 10 cents in stamps and get Dr. Pierce's complete treatise on consumption and kindred affections, with numerous testimonials of cures. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.
